

Ying Li

Urban Designer

Ying is an Urban Designer with a background in urban design and architecture. With both private and public experience, Ying has worked on various projects including town centre design, resort design, campus design, waterfront development design, and community revitalization. Specifically, her passion in urban design lies in projects related to nature, such as waterfront design and campus design. She is interested in how the public realm could better connect city and nature, providing a healthier, smarter and more sustainable urban environment.
